

2009 AHS Auction

November 14, 2009

Aviation High School PTSA is pleased to announce our Fundraising Dinner and Auction

At Aviation High School, students pursue their passion for aviation and aerospace in a unique learning environment that prepares them for higher education. On Saturday, November 14th, 2009 the Aviation High School PTSA will host our The Sky is Not the Limit Auction to raise funds for classroom supplies, library books, new technology, and student scholarships for higher education.

The Highline School District and Aviation High School budgets are both very limited, and the financial support from this auction will truly make a necessary and positive impact in our classrooms. As a vital member of the business community, you can make a difference in the lives of this tremendous group of young people. Our auction is a great way to market your business, product, or service. Advertisers and donors are included in our catalog, promotional materials, and auction tables which will be viewed by hundreds of people in our community. We have enclosed information on several different ways that you can help us reach our goal:

- Table sponsorships are available at several levels and bring recognition to your business. Along with ten prime seats at the event, your company will receive recognition in all event advertising and from the stage during the auction.
- Advertising opportunities are available in our auction catalog. This catalog will be distributed to all attendees, most of which are from the local business community.
- Donating an item or a service that we can use in our auction will help us achieve our financial goal. All donors will be listed in the catalog.

We hope that you will join with the Aviation High School PTSA to support The Sky is Not the Limit Auction as we work towards our mission of preparing students for college, career, and citizenship. We invite you to attend our auction to learn more about this unique high school and enjoy a memorable evening surrounded by fantastic flight memorabilia. Your interest in supporting Aviation High School means a great deal to the students and faculty and we truly appreciate any support you can make at this time.

Sincerely,
